

Social and Personal

ALINE THOMPSON

Invitations have been received for the Bolinger-McGillchrist wedding, which will take place on November 25, 1915 in the First Christian church. Miss Bolinger has been charmingly fêted since the announcement of her engagement and as a pre-nuptial attention Miss Regina Long will give an attractive breakfast Saturday.

The social and business meeting of the Marion Lawrence Bible class of the M. E. church was enjoyably entertained at the home of Mrs. Emma Cornelius, on 14th street. After the business meeting which was presided over by E. J. Swafford, president, the guests were favored with a delightful musical program. The Misses Grace and Elva Smith rendered several duets on the piano. Miss Lulu Walton gave an attractive reading and Mrs. Bessie Carlin Elliott sang a charming solo. The honor guests were Mrs. Bessie Cornelius Elliott, and small son, Arthur, Mrs. Oleott, who is visiting here from Pendleton, and Mrs. Griffin.

Mrs. J. W. Jones has as her house guest Miss Celestina Lynch, of Eugene. Miss Lynch who is head nurse of the Mercy hospital in that city, is on her way to Portland where she will visit with her aunt, Mrs. J. T. Twoby.

The Sweet Briar club was delightfully entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Glenn Adams. Big fluffy lavender and white chrysanthemums formed the decorations. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with fancy work after which a light repast was served.

The Harry Clays entertained informally at dinner Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mott are the guests of Mr. Mott's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Mott, on North Commercial street. Mr. Mott and his bride will visit in Salem until after Thanksgiving.

The Loyal Sons of the Christian church and their lady friends had an enjoyable social meeting in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. All sorts of games furnished the diversions for the evening, after which a delightful lunch was served.

Mrs. Ivan Bellinger, of Sweet Home, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Cook on North 12th street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker, of Reynolds, N. D., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Linforth and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schottelbauer. This is the Shoemaker's first visit to this part of the country, and they are more than favorably impressed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Santa 14th street, have returned home from a delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. Asa Fisher, of Spokane.

Mrs. C. E. Brown, of North 21st street has as her guests Mrs. W. W. Andrews and daughter, Kathleen, Mrs. Percy Williams and daughter, Mary Cato, from Mills City, Montana, all of whom are en route to the Panama exposition.

Mrs. J. A. Elliott and small son,

Arthur, who have been guests at the home of Mrs. Emma C. Cornelius, 161 South Fourteenth street, will return to their home in The Dalles Saturday.

A meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association will be held tonight at the Richmond school at 8 o'clock. An exceedingly interesting program will be given and the members should all be present.

An effort is now on foot to repeal the Sunday closing law by the vote of the people and initiative petitions will be circulated if the plan of Portland parties are carried out. A draft of the initiative measure has been submitted to Secretary of State Oleott for scrutiny and correction and that office has been asked for information relative to the circulating of petitions, form, revenue stamps and other matters pertaining to initiative petitions.

The matter has been taken up by a Portland law firm and the repeal of the blue sky Sunday closing law will be decided by the voters. The section of Lord's Oregon laws in question is number 2125 and was passed in 1864.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."

—Mrs. J. M. Risch, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

An inventory and appraisal in the matter of the estate of Elizabeth C. Smith was filed today in the probate court of this county. The appraisal shows that the estate consists of 22.25 acres of land in this county valued at $3,000. The appraisers were H. A. Keene, John Darby and J. A. Smith.

An inventory and appraisal in the estate of Lemuel Lemmon shows the estate to consist of real and personal property to the total value of $15,461.28, part of which is located in this county and part in Portland. Calvin Bayne, H. H. Croder and William Fairfield were the appraisers.

Iver Olson was committed to the Oregon State hospital for the insane today by County Judge Bussey after an examination by City Physician C. E. Cashatt.

Mrs. E. N. Husbands positively refuses to permit her son, Samuel C. Husbands, aged 19, to marry Feida Baker, who will not be 16 until December 7, and has written County Clerk Gehlbach to this effect. Mrs. Husbands says her son is not only too young but his $40 a month is not sufficient salary upon which to support a wife. Mrs. Husbands gave a Portland address. There has been no attempt made by the parties mentioned to secure a marriage license here.

County School Superintendent W. M. Smith went to Stayton this afternoon with Superintendent of City Schools O. M. Elliott to take part in the dedication exercises for the new Stayton high school building. The new building is modern in all respects and was erected at a cost of $15,000.

An inventory and appraisal in the estate of Frank N. Coleman, deceased, was filed today in the probate court showing the estate to consist of 100 acres of land valued at $7,000 and personal property to the value of $275. J. L. Cook, J. S. McDonald and T. M. Hughes were appraisers of the estate.

V. M. Dephew and C. E. Dephew today filed a notice of an assumed business name choosing the name "White Swan Bakery" for their restaurant and bakery conducted in this city.

IMPORTANT HOP CASE DECIDED IN YAMHILL COUNTY BY JURY

Judge Rules On Questions of Rise and Fall of Hops Under Contract

During the past week there has been a protracted trial going on at McMinnville between the firm of hop brokers, Wigan, Richardson & Co., of London, England, as plaintiffs, against Mr. Clyde LaFollette, a prominent farmer of Wheatland, in Yamhill county.

Briefly the controversy arose out of a hop contract made about three years ago whereby LaFollette agreed to sell and deliver 30,000 pounds of hops to these brokers during each of the five years then following, at the price of 14 cents per pound. The contract had the usual provisions in it requiring advances to be made for cultivation and picking. No trouble arose between the parties in 1913 because the hops then were worth about 25 cents per pound but last year the market had gone down and when it came time to deliver the hops the agents for Wigan, Richardson & Co., refused to accept the hops upon the ground that they were inferior. LaFollette contended that the hops were prime according to contract. The brokers then demanded that LaFollette should repay to them $2,100, which they had advanced to him during the year 1914. He refused to do this and then the hop brokers brought an action for the purpose of recovering judgment against LaFollette for $2,100.

After the hop brokers had rejected the hops in the fall of 1914, and refused to take them, LaFollette sold them for about seven cents per pound and the money he received from this sale, together with his advances, received from the brokers exceeded the amount due to him under the contract to sell at 14 cents per pound and left a balance in his hands due to the brokers amounting to $104.10. The jury after being out for a short time returned a verdict giving the plaintiffs, the brokers, the sum of $104.10.

One of the interesting questions which arose in this case was the contention made by the brokers that because LaFollette had agreed to sell them 30,000 pounds of hops each year for five years mentioned in the contract, and he only produced 28,000 pounds in 1914, he had made a breach of his contract and could not recover anything. But the court decided otherwise. The judge ruled that all the farmer had to do was to exercise reasonable skill and ordinary diligence in cultivating his hop yard and that if after having done so the crop was short and less than the amount mentioned in the contract, the broker would be obliged to take it and pay for it.

The action was originally commenced in Marion county, but was transferred to the circuit court for Yamhill county. Attorneys McNary & McNary and Smith & Shields of this city, represented the plaintiffs and Carson & Brown and Attorney Vinton, of the firm of McCane, Vinton & Beckett, of McMinnville, appeared for the defendants.

J. Dolore, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of being intoxicated, pleaded guilty before Judge Elgin this morning in police court and was given five days in the city jail.

Public service corporations desiring a hearing in the matter of reductions on property valuations must appear before the tax commission next week as the tax commission will hear no more petitions after that date. A number of the corporations of the state have sent representatives to appear before the tax commission and ask that their assessments be lowered because of loss of business and the competition of jitneys.

Willamette Students To Forest Grove

Tomorrow morning at 8:15 the Willamette special will leave the S. P. depot carrying aboard it about 150 Willamette rooters and the football team to Forest Grove, where they will play Pacific university in the afternoon. Pacific has made great preparations this year to beat Willamette in the annual gridiron battle as they have lost in every game since 1908, that they have played with Willamette. They have a fast team this year and the game will be an exciting one although Willamette will undoubtedly beat them by 25 points.

A big picnic dinner will be held in one of the college halls there at 12 o'clock, likewise supper. Miss Beryl Holt, who has charge of the "cats," says there will be enough for all. Tonight a big rally and yell practice will be held in the Willamette gym, as will also one at Pacific, to stir up enthusiasm for the game.

Advance In Market For Many Stocks

New York, Nov. 12.—Advances in the market today were made in the majority of stocks, with industrial issues leading. Standard securities were firm but inactive and apparently the attempt to shift interest to them early in the week when war and motor stocks were falling, had spent itself. Railroad stocks advanced for a time and were supported on several occasions when selling appeared.

Baldwin locomotive advanced seven points. Studebaker advanced nearly five points and Distillers, Maxwell Motors and Crucible Steel three. Bethlehem Steel was up nine. Besides war stocks and motor issues, particular strength was shown by United States Steel, which attained the highest figure this year, and in metals like Anaconda and Tennessee Copper and American Smelting.

WAR BULLETINS

New York, Nov. 12.—Steaming their way toward Naples, the White Star liner Cretic with 1088 passengers and the Lloyd Italian liner Casterta with 1200 others, was thought today to be in the "death zone" where the Italian liner Ancona met her fate before an Astorian submarine torpedo.

London, Nov. 12.—The British steamer Rhineland, of 1500 tons has been sunk by a submarine and only one seaman has been accounted for. The locality of the attack was withheld. The number of her complement is unknown.

London Nov. 12.—German losses have been so serious in the eastern front battling that Riga and Dyvink are considered safe for the winter, according to a Petrograd dispatch received here today.

Rome, Nov. 12.—Gains for the Italians in the Plava district was claimed in an official statement issued today.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

The Adelante Literary society will give a James Whitcomb Riley program this afternoon in their halls.

Professor Wallace McMurray is offering as a prize to his drama class a complete set of some modern dramatists' works, to the one who submits the best one act drama which he or she shall have written. The prize is awakening considerable enthusiasm among the students and it is expected that several good plays will be produced. He is likewise offering a set of essays as a prize to his essay class for the best essay submitted.

Everyone is preparing for the excursion to Pacific university tomorrow and the hurry and bustle of today will produce a marked contrast in the appearance of the campus tomorrow, when it will be practically deserted as nearly all of the students are planning to go.

President C. G. Doney returned yesterday from Portland, where he attended a meeting of the presidents of Oregon colleges.

Christian Endeavor Will Meet Tomorrow

His "Best Sellers"

Ask almost any grocer and he will tell you that he sells more

German American at 30c

And Royal Club at 35c than any other brands at any price.

It is not mere chance that Lang & Co.'s brands are "best sellers"—it is the natural result of higher quality and lower price.

One year ago when the coffee market "dropped" Lang & Co. were the only coffee roasters on the Pacific Coast who passed the saving on down to the consumer in reduced retail prices and increased quality.

We believed that it was better to win a large volume of sales on price and quality rather than through a sentimental appeal to the people to patronize "home industries."

Unless you are already using ROYAL CLUB at 35c or GERMAN-AMERICAN at 30c you are overlooking the best coffee values on the market.
